W. LEE O'DANIEL

By H. D. PARK
International News Service Staff

DALLAS, July 25.—W. Lee O'Daniel, broad-faced, wide-grinning Ohio Yankee, who waged his campaign with a bull-billy band and the ten commandments for a platform, was headed straight for the governor's chair today.

Unknown to most of Texas before he launched into his unorthodox campaign on advice of some friends who "urged me to run for governor," O'Daniel walked off with a clear majority over 11 other candidates for the Democratic nomination.

Motorists who believe in seeing Lawrence county first find that there are still a few hot houses being occupied. Some of them have been sort of unoccupied with hot roofs and windows, and inside are still light, but the roofs are pretty much the same as when heated by our hardy pioneers. When they were built there was plenty of timber in Lawrence county, and hot houses could be erected more cheaply than any other kind. "There was the good old days."

Pa. News is informed that "trans-acting" will be one of the objectives of a girls' organization that is being formed. Some girls may be seen at the home of the girls' organization, but no person that the particular kind of organization envisioned has to do with putting out on the radio, as we used to say on the farm. Mothers used to teach their daughters the systems of the canning art, but this was before the war.

Pa. News notes that great numbers of hot houses are being built in groups and clusters all over the city.

Petitions containing the names of approximately 5,000 individuals and the names of organizations, representing an additional 5,000 persons, today were presented to council. The petitions requested the city to have five combination swimming pools and skating rinks built as a city project. Each would cost, estimates said, $15,000 to $20,000, of which the city would pay for materials 20 percent and the WPA for labor 80 percent.

The petitions were presented by Harry G. Delin, Jack Grille and Mrs. Helen L. Replogle. The latter made an eloquent plea in favor of council taking favorable action. During the meeting, Mrs. Stanley Arent, Mahoning avenue and Walter Smith, colored boys' activities leader, in council on other matters, gave strong support to the petitions and Mayor Charles E. McGraw indicated he would favor the appropriation of parking meter money to maintain pools.

Favors Five Pools
When Delin addressed the body in council chambers in city hall, he said the petitions represented 10,000 citizens. He explained the committee which he, Grille and Mrs. Replogle represented, favored five pools which could be used during winter for skating rinks in different sections of the city. He related that during the past three years 21 drownings could be ascribed to the lack of pools in which to bathe and said most of the victims were between the ages of 10 and 14.

He said he had conferred with a representative of a cement company (Continued On Page Six)

Camp John Phillips Fight
Fire On Sunday

Efficient Scout training of the Scouts encamped at Camp John M. Phillips, saved the activities building from complete destruction by fire Sunday afternoon.

While a group of boys were reading the upper floor of the building about 10 o'clock Sunday, smoke began to creep through the floor of the building. The Scouts dashed out of the building, sounded the fire alarm and began to use chemical extinguishers on the blaze.

As the alarm spread, the entire camp was aroused and rushed to the burning building. Nearby campers rushed to the aid with more extinguishers, and with these and the aid of a hastily formed bucket brigade the fire was brought under control by 4 o'clock.

The New Castle fire department answered the alarm, but when they arrived the blaze had been successfully put under control, and no action on their part was required.

The fire, according to Scout Executive Earl F. Green, started in one corner of the building and quickly spread to a stack of straw nearby. Robert McCord, Scoutmaster of Troop 55, and H. D. Henry, caretaker of the camp, were most active in the fight and were largely responsible for getting the blaze under control so rapidly.

Origin of the fire was not learned, after a great deal of Scout camp equipment was damaged by the fire and smoke.

WASHINGTON, July 25.—An officer of the United States aircraft carrier Enterprise was wounded at Ponce, Puerto Rico, today in a reported attempt to assassinate Governor Blanton Winship of Puerto Rico, the navy department was informed in unofficial advice.

The navy also was informed that eight other persons were wounded and taken to hospitals.

Police at Ponce, it was reported, fired into a crowd gathered for a local celebration in an effort to bring down the man who shot at Governor Winship. The governor was not hit, these sources said.

Meanwhile, department of interior officials also had unofficial reports on the outbreak at Ponce.

After receiving the reports, department officials strove frantically to establish contact with Governor Winship by telephone and cable. At 12:25 p. m. EST, however, the officials had been unable to get through to the island's chief executive.

They included two dual type pavement projects for U. S. 22, one in Blair County between Hollidays and Gettysburg, the other in Dauphin county near Dauphin in Middle Paxton township, projects in progress.

HAIFA, Palestine, July 25.—At least 35 persons were killed and 50 wounded today in a new outbreak of Arab-Jewish terrorism when a gigantic bomb or land mine exploded in a crowded vegetable market here.

The blast occurred in the same market as the July 6 outrage, in which 18 Arabs and four Jews lost their lives. It was that incident which prompted Great Britain to double its military forces here and rush two battleships to the port in a determined effort to prevent a repetition.

Nine separate fires were caused by the terrific explosion. Fire engines, manned by armed guards, raced through the city, adding to the panic and confusion.

Large blocks of dance houses, occupied for the most part by Arabs, were gutted or damaged by the explosion and resultant fires. For hours, rescue workers scurried from the smoking buildings with dead and wounded.

British marines and local police threw a cordon around the market, holding back hundreds of friends and relatives who sought to break through to identify the dead and wounded.

ABOARD THE U. S. S. HOUSTON, Enroute to Albatraz Island, Guadalupe Group (via Navy Radio), July 25.—After more than a week of bickering, the polio-ridden members of President Roosevelt's staff met up with the local members of King Neptune's realm today as the Cruiser Houston steamed from Salavan Bay, San Salvador Island, to Albatraz Island.

Stephen E. Early, secretary to the president, was one of the chief offenders under charges prepared by Senator Sherrill H. Roosevelt and passed to David Jones. As a result, Early was fined the "usual wages" by the court.

Everything from the electric chair, stocks, operating tables, the "usual" dentist's mouthwash and the tank was administered to the defendants who had never crossed the Atlantic before, together with good old-fashioned seats from various leaders in hands of long rows of shellsacks.

Mr. Roosevelt stretched himself under a canvas awning where as Senator Sherrill he could see the proceedings and follow it from time to time as some especially recalcitrant polio-ridden needed extra discipline.

He enjoyed many a hearty guffaw at the indignities heaped upon his aides.

Roberts, who had been working one day at the Means Summer Hotel on the beach three miles west of here, went out in a rowboat after a heavy meal. He was seen swimming around the craft and then witnesses heard him shout and sink. His mother, Mrs. Mary Fisher, a cook at the hotel, was distressed with grief.

PITTSBURGH, July 25.—Differences in state and federal policies over development of incidental power in flood control projects may result in suspension of flood control work in Pennsylvania, it appeared today.
State authorities believe the dams should be erected for flood control purposes solely and should not include provisions for the development of potential power.
Federal policies, expressed through President Roosevelt, emphasize that any water power opportunities in dams being erected by the federal government, no matter for what purpose and including flood control, must be provided for. Furthermore, any power which results therefrom shall belong to the federal government and not to the nation's state, they believe.

FIVE HUNDRED ATTEND GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY

Saturday, July 23 was jotted down as a notable date by Mr. and Mrs. Robert T. Edwards of Big Beaver Township, inasmuch as they celebrated a most memorable occasion—their Golden Wedding Day.

Receiving a throng of friends and relatives at Big Beaver Grange, proved a jubilee never to be forgotten, as the registration book numbered over five hundred guests who called to share from 4 o'clock on. Many attended from Niagara Falls, Canton, O., Alliance, O., Salem, O., Columbus, O., Calhoun, O., Amherst, O., and many surrounding vicinities.

A notable feature was the dinner served at noon to the immediate family of the honored couple. They, with their twelve children, were seated at one long table, decorated in gold and white. The loved wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom, was prominently placed, and the last throughout, was elegantly decorated with an abundance of flowers, many being the gifts of friends. Overhead, were streamers, further carrying out the gold and white motif.

During the celebration, appropriate speeches were given by Rev. Baden Hook of Wampum; R. V. Alfred Bunney of the Protestant church; Jack Richardson of New Castle, who attended the wedding ceremony; Mrs. Grace Ross, and Mrs. Warner McFarlane of New Castle. Each paid both tribute to the honored couple, whom are held with sincere regard and esteem by their hosts of friends.

Special music was contributed by Miss Ruth Thomas and the Edwards sisters, throughout the day.

Many gifts were bestowed upon Mr. and Mrs. Edwards as additional mementos of the day. They also received messages and other tokens from those unable to be present, conveying congratulations.

Miss Ethel May Murphy, a sister of the bride, served as bridesmaid, and she was attired in a stylish blue ensemble and carried a bouquet of roses. Michael Buck of New Castle served the bridegroom as best man.

A wedding dinner followed the service at the bride's home, with members of the bridal party and immediate families sharing the delightful event. A decorative arrangement of garden flowers and a large tiered wedding cake formed an attractive setting for the dinner.

The couple were presented with an array of very lovely and useful gifts for use in their future home.

I. O. O. F. Picnic At Camp Con-E-Que Is Grand Success

ELLWOOD CITY, July 25.—One of the most successful of Saturday's many social activities was the combined picnic held by members of the Lady Rebekah Lodge and the I. O. O. F. Lodge at Camp Con-E-Que, Pa.

The delightful affair began at 2:30 p. m. with a full program of sports activities that occupied the attention of the entire group in a merry manner. G. C. Dennison was in charge of this feature and presented appropriate prizes to all the winners.

A mishap came at 4 o'clock between the Ellwood and Allegheny I. O. O. F. teams attracted much attention. The high-light of the day was the picnic dinner served at 6:30 o'clock under the direction of Mrs. Jennie Thornhill, as chairman. While the sudden rain at the dinner-hour sent the "picnickers" scurrying for shelter, its cooling effect was welcomed.

In the evening, a dance for members and friends of the two lodges was held with a very large crowd in attendance. Throughout the affair was most enjoyable and the various committees are deserving of much praise for their splendid efforts.

ELLWOOD CITY, July 25.—Ewing Park grove was the scene of an enjoyable outing on Saturday when descendants of William and Hattie White gathered for their annual reunion. Fifty members and friends of the family attended from DuBois, Enon Valley, Castlewood, Zelienople and the Ellwood vicinity.

A sumptuous dinner was partaken of at noon after which a business period was held and the following officers selected: President, Mr. Mary Hogue, Enon Valley; secretary, Mrs. Victor Koach, Wurttemberg; and treasurer, Mrs. Hazel White, Castlewood.

Misses Jean Hogue and Florence White supervised a well planned sports program that occupied the afternoon hours, with many nice prizes being given to the winners. Mrs. Mary Hogue invited the group to hold the reunion in 1939 on the second Saturday of July at her home in Enon Valley.

Legion All-Stars Blank Palestine 4-0

State Eliminations Begin Wednesday With Ellwood Meeting Curtisville

ELLWOOD CITY, July 25.—The American Legion Junior Baseball All-Star team kept its slate clean by blanking the East Palestine American Legion team 4 to 0 in a well played game at Ewing Park diamond on Saturday.

East Palestine displayed a youthful working team of youngsters and were by far the stiffest opposition encountered by the locals this year. In MacKell, they presented a south paw of ability and while touched for eight hits including a double by Saunders and a brace of singles by Mazzani, he had the locals cutting out of his hand in all except the 3rd and 4th innings. McCready, who pitched the first five innings for the locals was invincible allowing only one hit and his successor Tommy Smiley allowed one scratch hit during the remainder of the game. The locals have now won eight straight games.

Eliminations start Wednesday for the state crown with Ellwood City meeting Curtisville, Allegheny county champs, at Curtisville. The second game will be played at Ewing Park on Friday, July 29. The games are called at 4:30 p. m. EST. A large crowd is planned to follow the local boys and will leave from the Legion rooms on 6th street at 1:30 p. m. on Wednesday.

Governor Earle's Administration Heavily Attacked

Convening Of Legislature To Block Grand Jury Probe Is Assailed

CONNEAUT LAKE, Pa., July 25.—There was a storm of opinion reports of Republican chances in the fall coupled with a verbal barrage against the present Democratic administration, young Republicans from more than 35 Western Pennsylvania counties were back at their homes today after a busy one-day rally at this lake resort.

Most of the G. O. P. attack was directed at Gov. George H. Earle and his action in continuing the legislature in an attempt to block the proposed grand jury probe of his administration.

"George H. Earle is running around and making more noise than Donald Duck would if he swallowed a bunch of hot and William S. Livenood Jr., the Republican nominee for secretary of internal affairs."

The delegates adopted a resolution describing Earle's administration in three terms: "Crafty, insidious, previously extravagant and downright dishonest."

Livenood, one of the G. O. P.'s crack orators, brought repeated cheers from the 1,000 delegates with his scathing denunciation of the Earle administration. The governor, he told the delegates, had apparently refused the word "petrification" with "terminal prosecution" in his recent statement declaring he would not permit "political persecution" in his administration.

Frank C. Hilton, of Wyomissing, was unanimously endorsed for reelection as chairman of the young Republicans at the state convention in Harrisburg next month.

Other speakers at the meeting arranged by George Barco, a Meadville attorney, were Samuel S. Lewis, Republican candidate for lieutenant governor, and Donald Hornbeck, of Cleveland.

Rev. James Mallis Is Being Heard In Tabernacle Series

First Congregational Minister Delivers Message From Book Of Romans

Pastor R. J. Fredericks of the Central Tabernacle reports that Sunday was another very busy day at the East Side center. He says that besides the Bible school hour there were three largely attended Bible conference sessions with Rev. James E. Mallis, of Philadelphia, as the guest speaker. Powerful and inspiring discourses were given on the 77th Psalm, the pastor states, and they made a gratifying impression upon the audiences.

Mr. Mallis has announced as the central theme of his series of conference sessions, "The Character of God's Appointments," with special emphasis on the deeper spiritual life of the Christian's work. Mr. Mallis' father has been a missionary to India for fifty years and Mr. Mallis himself served on that field for six years.

Before coming to New Castle he was one of the principal speakers at the Monroeville and Stonybrook Bible conferences, and will be one of the principal speakers in August at the Roseton, N. J., conference for the seventh consecutive summer. He will be heard nightly at the tabernacle, two streets east of Cascade Park at 7:30.

Fine Audience At Park Last Night

First Congregational Minister Delivers Message From Book Of Romans

"What Grace Can Do" was the subject of an uplifting sermon by Rev. Rees T. Williams, pastor of the First Congregational church, at the usual worship service in Cascade Park Sunday evening. The Welsh minister took for his text Romans 6:14.

The First Congregational church had entire charge of the program. The choir, directed by John M. Evans, with Mrs. Evans at the piano, sang three beautiful numbers which were highly appreciated by the audience. The audience proved to be one of the largest which has turned out yet for the park services.

Rev. Thomas B. Shearer, pastor of the Central Christian church, who is to deliver the sermon next Sunday evening, read the scripture last night. Dr. C. B. Winkler of the Central Presbyterian church, led in prayer. Rev. Williams made the announcements, delivered the sermon and offered benediction.

Golf Players Will Pay Tribute To Machin's Memory

Out of respect to the late Earl S. Machin, who was a director of the New Castle Field club, President Albert Street today asked that members of the club refrain from playing golf during the time of the funeral of Mr. Machin on Wednesday afternoon. The time suggested during which no playing should be done is between 2 and 4 o'clock.

Members of the Field club during this time Wednesday afternoon are asked to use the Chapin road to the club house as the driveway into the club will be blocked with cars at the funeral. Mr. Machin's home adjoins the Field club grounds.

AUSTIN, Tex., July 25.—Rain-swollen rivers falling below their damaging high water marks of the week end cheered hundreds of sufferers in the flood ravaged areas of central and south Texas today.

Engineers predicted the worst of the present emergency had passed as the Concho, Sanaba and Colorado rivers dropped back beneath clearing skies.

Officials announced no more lives had been lost since two persons were drowned at Austin on Friday. A family of four from Mexico, marooned near San Saba were reported saved along with several others who had been isolated on a knoll for nearly two days.

Y., is shown at the controls of her own amateur radio station, W2IXY, in her home, as she prepared to relay a radioed message for help sent by the 215 isolated residents of Pitcairn Island to the British government. C. I. O. Urges That Government Fix Minimum Pay

Philip Murray Speaks At Meeting In Washington On Proposal

WASHINGTON, July 25.—The CIO today urged the government to fix a 62½-cent-per-hour pay minimum for steel workers, as the Department of Labor moved to invoke the Walsh-Healey government contracts act to "freeze" wages in the great steel industry.

CIO spokesman Philip Murray, chairman of the Steel Workers' organization committee, testifying before the Walsh-Healey administrative board, demanded that the step be taken to prevent the Bethlehem and Republic Steel corporations from "undercutting the prevailing wage."

The act requires industries obtaining government contracts to observe a 40-hour work week and pay prevailing wages. Murray appeared as the first labor witness to hearings by the board to determine what the "prevailing wage" is in the industry. Murray asked the board to set the minimum wage for eastern producers at the figure now established by SWOC's contract with the huge United States Steel corporation—62½ cents an hour.

He proposed that the board establish three regions in fixing the wage—one for the eastern states producing about 85 per cent of all steel, one for the south, a third for the west.

Dan Wallace 'Home' To See City Where He Spent Childhood

A man who left New Castle as a boy almost a half century ago came "back home" over the week end to see again the city of his childhood.

He was Daniel H. Wallace, now a prominent district lumberman of the Seattle, Wash., district.

Mr. Wallace, a cousin of John K. Stinson, Greer building, stopped only a few days to visit the district he left back in 1888. He is on a two-month motor tour of the country.

Mr. Wallace was the son of Robert E. and Emma Lewis Wallace, and was born in a home on East Wallace avenue near where Judge Thomas W. Dickery's home now stands. His family was prominent here.

Find Three Women Lost In Ice Caverns Of New Mexico

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., July 25.—Frankly amazed at their own survival of four days and nights on western New Mexico's desolate lava beds, three courageous women tourists on Sunday are the first solid food they had tasted since breakfast last Tuesday.

"It must have been an act of God," they agreed, "although we never lost hope in spite of the apparent impossibility of our being rescued or of finding our way out of the lava flow."

The women, Misses Laura and Irene Pedalino and Marie Antonette De Laforest, were served a light lunch Sunday, their first solid food since rescuers found them about noon yesterday.
